

CBSL

CBSL (Cels Business Services Ltd) provides a range of business focussed services to public and private clients.

These services range from delivering marketing strategy and implementation support, to business strategy formulation, technology management, operational support and business development.

We support organisations at every stage of development from start up through to growth and expansion. Our specialists use their skills in the above areas to drive the value and performance of the organisations we work with.

We have a successful track record of delivering business improvement and work with a range of organisations including universities, regional development agencies, NHS trusts and the department of health, start up companies, small to medium sized companies and multinational companies.

CBSL is a wholly owned subsidiary of Cels (the Centre of Excellence for Life Sciences Ltd) which is part funded by One North East and works with a range of public and private organisations in the healthcare and life sciences sector.
