

Research institutions

The region benefits from world class universities such as Durham and Newcastle and is home to a range of all world class institutions dedicated to making fundamental improvements in human health. For further details please click here.