

Inward investment

Cels works with the regional development agency, One North East, to provide a single point of contact for organisations investing in North East England. Investors are guided to the most appropriate resources by their teams in North America, China, Japan, Korea, Australia, Norway, Australia, Norway and Germany.

There is One North East support for:

- Capital Investment linked to capital investment focusing on research, design and development in high knowledge fields.
- Investment leading to new jobs and the safeguarding of employment.
- Joint ventures with regional companies to open new channels to market, introduce new technologies or launch new products.
- Collaborative working between companies and the region's research base.
- Accessing new markets through joint initiatives and strategic relationships with other regions worldwide.

For healthcare and life science companies, this support can take many forms. The region can provide access to the National Health Service (NHS) through a local purchasing hub. Companies can interact with Cels to access the regional R&D and company support network (Cels HealthConnect) and develop existing products and design new ones through the regional support scheme (InStep). Cels also enables links with the regional supply chain and its universities and research institutes.
